With PIX SPEAK, kids and teens can make photos and drawings talk!

SAN FRANCISCO – December 5, 2004 – A new software called PIX SPEAK lets kids and teens make photos and drawings talk, disguise and record their voices with endless combinations of audio effects, animate what they draw, and e-mail their creations to friends and family.

Recently selected by PC Magazine as their “Daily Gift Idea,” Pix Speak also offers drawing and coloring capabilities that open up a world of creativity for the budding Picassos on your gift list.

A great holiday gift at only $29.95, Pix Speak is available online at www.NBOR.com, where it can be purchased and downloaded in a matter of minutes.

Pix Speak lets you:

- Make a picture come to life and say whatever you want. Just draw a mouth on a photo or drawing and animate it to make it talk. You’re the voice and you control how the mouth opens and closes while you’re talking.
- Narrate your own artistic creations by recording your own voice telling a story or personal message.
- Add wild voice effects to your creations. With Pix Speak’s Disguise Voice feature, you can change your voice using endless laugh out-loud audio effect combinations. One minute it’s like you’re breathing helium (‘cause your voice is way UP here), the next like a swamp monster (‘cause it’s now way DOWN here)...or like a bee flying around...or an annoying parrot that won’t shut up. Turn on Ring Modulation and you can sound like a cheap radio. Mix Swamp Monster, Ping Pong, Phase Shift, Ring Modulation and Distortion together, and you’re ROARING like a lion.
- Animate what you draw. Hit Record in Pix Speak and every stroke of what you draw or type is captured – then anyone with Pix Speak can watch your creation come to life.

- Draw and type on photos. Imagine all the fun you'll have drawing, sketching, and typing directly on all those digital photos you've been shooting. Any .jpg, .png, and .bmp image can be imported into Pix Speak, resized, added to creations, even animated as you draw on it or type, then saved or shared via e-mail.
- Create your own artistic masterpieces. Each copy of Pix Speak comes with 60 original Create-A-Pix drawings of dinosaurs, animals, birds and creatures created by fine artist Jin Kang. As a bonus, each drawing is actually two images in one for double the fun. The top image is a black and white outline that can be filled with your choice of 16 million RGB colors and 16 fully-adjustable gradients. The bottom image (which is an exact size match) is an exquisite sketch that adds shadows, shading, and artistic pen strokes when the two images are layered. You can draw, type or write on Create-A-Pix images; change their transparency, brightness, contrast and hue after they're filled with color or gradients; and use the Pix Speak eyedropper to copy color from one place to another.
- Free draw anything. Got an idea you want to share with someone else? Just sketch it and e-mail it. Pix Speak lets you draw, doodle, or create serious works of art simply by turning on the Draw switch and moving your mouse.
- Add text to your creations. Type or hand write anything you want. With Pix Speak, you have immediate access to all the fonts (including styles and point sizes) on your hard drive, plus 16 million RGB color choices. Kids and teens in particular will love how they can stretch text like a rubber-band simply by clicking on the NP switch and dragging over the text.
- Add perfect computer graphics to creations. With Pix Speak, you can you draw familiar objects like stars, circles, squares, and triangles – and watch the software instantly turn them into polished graphics that can be filled with color and added to compositions.
- Give your creations spectacular backgrounds. Pix Speak's gradient fills bring a dimensionality to drawings with endless variety.
- E-mail your creations to friends and family. When you're all done, Pix Speak creations can be mailed directly out from the software (depending on your Internet provider) or attached to e-mail.

Examples of Pix Speak's animation and audio capabilities can be seen and heard at <http://www.nbor.com/media.htm>. The software's drawing and coloring capabilities can be viewed at <http://www.nbor.com/pixspeak.htm>.
